To find a suitable journal for publication, you can[1234]:

- Search Call for Papers in your subject area to find journals that are expanding into your field.
- Review the publisher's website to learn more about how your article will fit at the journal.
- Check whether you can submit an article – some journals are invitation-only.
- Use journal metrics to understand the impact of a journal. CiteScore metrics can help to measure journal citation impact.
- Check the journal at Journal Insights for additional info about impact, speed and reach.
- Research the scope of the journals you are interested in.
- Use research tools such as Scopus, the Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ), and ThinkCheckSubmit to find legitimate journals.
- Use JournalFinder to enter the title and abstract of your paper to easily find journals that could be best suited for publishing.
